THANK YOU for patiently waiting for this newsletter, which in this issue we are pleased to feature the Le Grand Family History! 2017 has been a remarkable a year for MHP, Inc. with the development of outdoor interpretive panels, completion of the North Dakota Museum Assessment Program with a long-range Master Plan, assisting the State Historical Society of North Dakota with a National Register application, and making great progress on several restoration projects!

North Dakota Museum Assessment Program

During 2015 to 2017, Manfred History and Preservation, Inc. (MHP, Inc.) has had the honor to participate in a North Dakota Museum Assessment Program (NDMAP) grant through the State Historical Society of North Dakota (SHSND) for the benefit of MHP, Inc. and the Manfred Heritage Museum. Team members: Wanda Melchert, Pam Norstedt, and Audrey Solheim with Laverne Johnson as editor/advisor.

The first assignment for the assessment team was to work through a self-study of our non-profit organization, MHP, Inc. The team then chose Aaron Novodvorsky from Minneapolis as museum consultant. Aaron reviewed the self-study and then conducted a workshop with the team. He also visited Manfred for an on-site review of the Manfred Heritage Museum complex.

Aaron wrote an evaluation which was studied by the assessment team for their input. With Aaron leading a collaborative effort, a Master Plan has been developed. This Master Plan will serve as a helpful tool for Manfred History and Preservation, Inc. in the years to come. Implementation of the Master Plan includes long-range planning, volunteer recruitment, partnership development, outreach activities, and guiding the museum to serve as an educational resource.

Amy Munson, SHSND Grant Administrator gave approval for the panel project. Mann Signs of Bismarck provided graphic design assistance, fabrication of the posts and panels, and installation on June 14th.

Dedication of the panels on August 5, 2017 was an enjoyable event with beautiful weather. Perry Anderson provided the sound system. Refreshments were served by Fagerlund Sons of Norway and Vang Ladies Aid.

Restoration Update for Some of the Historic Buildings in Manfred

Solheim Station

The three top facial roofs were stabilized and rebuilt by contractor Charles Bolin. One decorative scroll was restored and one built new by Clyde Moldenhauer. Painting of station by Wanda Melchert.

Solheim House

A chimney was roofed over to protect from moisture damage by contractor Charles Bolin, as well as removing the decorative trim in the roof peaks for further restoration. A small dilapidated out building was taken down by Richard Melchert, Jamie Schindler, and Wesley Gross.

Hotel Johnson

Repaired and painted in 2017

The top front roofing was re-stabilized by contractor Charles Bolin. Painting of hotel by Wanda Melchert and Jamie Schindler.

Cash Store

Through the encouragement of museum consultant, Aaron Novodvorsky, the north side of the Cash Store was totally renovated by contractor Greg Seidel this year. Because of rotting sub-walling, the pressed tin panels were falling off. The panels were removed, new sub-walling installed, and panels reattached. In addition, the pressed tin panels on the south and east sides of the building have all been secured.

Cash Store

Repainting the "Cash Store" wording on north side planned as a future project

Vang Lutheran Church

The basement parlor had been re-walled several years ago protecting the vulnerable stone-rubble foundation walls. In 2017, this project was completed with walling installed in the furnace room, back stairway, and a small section in the front stairway. Painting by Verna Bowers, and other help by Wanda Melchert.

Manfred School

Restoration is taking place both outside and inside. The main level classrooms are now painted and woodwork restoration is in process by Greg Seidel and volunteers. The crumbling chimney and remnant of the bell tower have been roofed over to protect from moisture damage and restoration of the east dormer by Charles Bolin. Help in securing second story windows was provided by Harry Detling, Jamie Schindler, and Richard and Wanda Melchert.

Main level classrooms have been painted. Woodwork project in process

East dormer port window and decorative cut wood shingles were installed this fall. Painting and staining has been started.

Letter of Appreciation

Greetings Manfred!

August 15, 2017

I just returned from Manfred, a trip that has been on my bucket list for so many years! My great grandmother, Martha Torkelsdatter Erfjord, emigrated from Norway in 1895 settling at Manfred. Coming with her at that time were her two youngest children, Martha Ejfjord Nelson, and David Nelson (my grandfather). Other children had previously immigrated to the Manfred area: Clarence Nelson, Thomine Erfjord Natland, and Svend S. Erfjord. They married and settled in Manfred, farming and raising their families just north of the town.

What a treat to visit the town and find it so well taken care of and its history kept alive! As an avid historian and genealogist, experiencing Manfred was more than I could have hoped for! It has been wonderful to share photos of the museum, the church, the school, the gas station, the cemeteries, and the new interpretive panels with my relatives.

I greatly appreciate all the time, energy, and heart the Manfred History and Preservation group has put into keeping the history of Manfred alive for us to visit so many years later. My family lived there 100 years ago! I felt like I was walking among them and experiencing firsthand their beginnings in America.

My heartfelt thanks to Audrey Solheim for meeting me and for all the information and background research you provided me. Thanks, too, to Wanda Melchert, for showing me the treasures at the Museum and directing me to the town landmarks and the cemeteries.

It was so exciting to walk on the land homesteaded by my pioneer ancestors. My ancestors are part of the great Scandinavian immigration story that came alive for me during my visit. I hope it's not a problem that I took home rocks from the farms! Maybe the most exciting find was discovering the grave of my great grandmother, Martha Erfjord.

I am so in awe of my immigrant ancestors, and especially Martha, who came over as a widow. She is buried in Bethel Cemetery with the Natland family. Svend and his wife, Sofie Natland Erfjord, were there, too. All three had unmarked graves (not for long), and thanks to Audrey, my family now knows of their resting place. What a special discovery! (Monument company information was provided to Elizabeth, and the grave markers have now been installed!)

My hat is off to you for maintaining the site of Manfred and all its historic buildings. What a treasure! My visit was an once-in-a-lifetime experience, thanks to your work in keeping the history alive for us! The interpretive panels are a wonderful addition that will continue the experience for many more visitors. Keep up the good work!

Elizabeth Nelson
Lacey, Washington

The Manfred staff greatly enjoyed meeting Elizabeth and assisting her – and likewise, with others in their adventure of experiencing the places where their ancestors once walked.

Job Opportunities in Manfred for 2018

Student Position

We would be delighted to have a student join us for the 2018 season in a contracted position. The student would focus on Collections – to do an inventory of the current Collections and to accession new artifacts and archival items to become part of the Collections of the Manfred Heritage Museum, and to assist with activities and visitors. This position would be ideal for a college or graduate school student.

Outreach Coordinator Position

Also for the 2018 season, we would be pleased to contract with an individual to serve as an Outreach Coordinator. This person would work with the Museum Director in planning and coordinating activities, grant writing, help with outreach in the Wells County region, and assist with visitors and tours in Manfred. This position would be ideal for a person who has the summer free or for someone who is retired and would enjoy this interesting opportunity.

In Memory of Arthur C. Neuenschwander

December 23, 1907 – December 7, 1941

A special memorial service was held on June 24, 2017 in Fessenden for Arthur
C. Neuenschwander who died on the USS Oklahoma during the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. On that day, 429 men from this ship died, most were buried unidentified.
In April 2015, the Department of Defense began the process of identifying the remains of the USS Oklahoma crew members through DNA analysis.
Arthur's remains were positively identified and brought ceremoniously to Fessenden for an inspiring service with the presentation of colors by the Frank Proisl American Legion Post #33 of Fessenden and program led by John Neuenschwander with thoughts shared by Laurie Neuenschwander O'Connor.
Full military honors were provided for the inurnment at Hillside Cemetery near Fessenden. Arthur was the son of Otto and Lillian (Haugen) Neuenschwander, and grandson of Tollef and Bertha Haugen who had settled in the Manfred area in 1904.

Joseph and Anna Le Grand Family History

Anna and Joseph Le Grand

Map of Sweden showing where Anna and Joseph were born

1 Anna was born in Sparlösa, Götaland, Sweden

2 Joseph was born in Stora Harrie, Skåne, Sweden

Joseph and Anna settled at Malmö not far from Joseph's birthplace where their first child was born, and later moved to Mariestad very near Anna's birthplace where their fifth child was born.

Joseph Alfred Le Grand was born February 2, 1838 at Stora Harrie, Skåne, Sweden, the only child of Jean Louis "Ludvig" Le Grand (1804-1874) and Christina "Stina" Svensdotter born 1797 of Vireda, Jonkoping, Sweden. In 1814, Jean Louis moved from France to Sweden with his parents following the Napoleonic War. Jean's father Yoseph Le Grand (1764-1840) was an aide to Gen. Bernadotte, who became king of Sweden. In Sweden, Yoseph became the manager of a sheep farm.

Anna Christina Lindstrom was born July 2, 1847 in Sparlösa, Sweden, the eldest daughter of Lars Lindstrom (1822-1890) and Kaisa Carlson (1824-1899). Lars was a hunter and trapper in Sweden. Lars immigrated to the United States in 1873, with his wife Kaisa following in 1879. Lars and Kaisa are buried at Northwood, North Dakota.

Joseph and Anna met while they were both employed at a large estate in Sweden: Joseph as a bookkeeper and Anna was training in all the arts of homemaking. Joseph and Anna were married October 23, 1868 and settled at Skåne, Sweden. Their first five children were born at Malmö, Kalmar, Sweden: (1) Axel born in 1871, (2) Astrid known as Esther born in 1873, (3) Ines known as Inez born in 1875, (4) Sigrid known as Sarah born in 1879, and (5) David born in 1880.

With some financial assistance from his brother, Joseph and Anna together with their five children immigrated to the United States on the ship Thingvalla in a rough ocean crossing, arriving in New York on August 3, 1881. The family was accompanied on this journey by Anna's sister Charlotte and another sister's son. Joseph and Anna homesteaded in Northwood Township in Grand Forks County, North Dakota where four more children were born to them: (6) Hulda in 1883, (7) Gertrude "Gertie" in 1885, (8) Harry in 1887, and (9) Klara known as Clara in 1889. In 1894, Joseph and Anna and family moved to Manfred.

On June 15, 1906, Joseph and Anna sold 80 acres of their river bottom land near Manfred: the south 40 acres to their son Axel for land adjacent to his homestead and the north 40 acres to S. G. Klev. Joseph and Anna intended to made Denhoff their permanent residence with their daughter Hulda, however, on September 2, 1906 Joseph died. His obituary follows: "Joseph Le Grand died last Saturday night at the home of his daughter Hulda near Denhoff. Joseph was born in Sweden 70 years ago next February and emigrated to this country and was living at Northwood until 1894 when he came to Manfred and took up a homestead, which he farmed until last spring, with the exception of a few years in the hotel business in Manfred. He led a quiet and peaceful life and will be remembered with respect by all who knew him. His remains were buried at the cemetery at Denhoff."

When Joseph and Anna sold some of their land at Manfred, they hadn't sold their home located near the home of their son Axel so this is where Anna lived after Joseph died. As Anna grew older, she didn't like to stay alone anymore, so her granddaughter Evelyn would come over each evening to spend the night with Anna. Anna would tell her stories about life in Sweden such as doing laundry only twice a year, in the spring and in the fall when they changed from winter to summer clothing and from summer to winter clothing. During those big laundry times, the neighbors would all come to help. Through the years, Anna would visit her married children and stay with each of them for several weeks. She was remembered as being a very sweet, kind, and quiet person. Anna died October 2, 1923 and is buried at Vang Cemetery north of Manfred.

The Axel and Jennie Le Grand Family

Axel Ludvig Le Grand was born July 16, 1871 in Malmö, Kalmar, Sweden, the eldest of nine children born to Joseph and Anna Le Grand. In 1881, at nine years of age, Axel traveled with his parents and four siblings from Sweden to Northwood, North Dakota where his parents began farming. In 1894, his family moved 125 miles west to the new community of Manfred, filing on a homestead there. In 1895, Axel filed on his own homestead at Manfred. In addition to starting up his farm, Axel drove for the Fincher mail and stage line between Fessenden, Viking, and Oberon for several years.

On November 20, 1903, Axel married Jennie Mae Fincher, born November 19, 1885 at Milan, Michigan, the daughter of Herbert J. and Elizabeth “Eliza” (Cone) Fincher who homesteaded in Pony Gulch near Harvey. The Fincher family had lived in a cave in the hills until a cabin could be built. Jennie remembered the hardships. Sioux Indians were their only neighbors and they often would come to her father seeking help.

Axel and Jennie’s first child, Norman, was born in September of 1904 and their second child, Evelyn, in January of 1906. On November 13, 1906, Axel became Manfred’s postmaster. He built a small building to serve as the post office, at first located in the western part of Manfred. In May of 1908, Axel moved this building to Main Street which was fast becoming the business center. That year, Axel also made some significant improvements in the rural mail route after which time more farmers were placed on the route. In January of 1908 their third child, Herbert was born. In December of that year, “Modern Woodman of America” was organized at Manfred of which Axel was a charter member. Axel served as postmaster until May of 1911.

With his homestead land being adjacent to the village of Manfred and people inquiring if he might sell part of his land to them, it was in 1907 that Axel had part of his farm platted into lots as Le Grand’s Addition to the Town of Manfred. Over time, this addition became a major residential area for Manfred. In June of 1911, Axel and Jennie celebrated the birth of their fourth child, Helen. Axel ran for county sheriff in 1912, serving one term. By this time, his farm had increased to 250 acres. Also by 1912, Axel began serving as manager of the Osborn-McMillan Elevator which he continued in for the remainder of his life.

In the 1915 Manfred Township election, Axel was voted in to serve as Justice of the Peace. Axel and Jennie’s fifth child, Lyle, was born in February of 1916. Axel was elected as Manfred Township Constable in 1917. That same year he was one of the people appointed to lead the Red Cross drive for Manfred district to help with the war effort. Their sixth child, Genevieve, was born in April of 1918. Through the years, Axel had been the manager of the Manfred Shipping Association from which he retired in 1926.

Axel's daughter, Evelyn, remembers that Axel did some acting in home talent plays and was also a member of a debate team. Axel was a member of the Manfred Community Club which held monthly good-natured and interesting debates for the community on different topics. One of debates was on the topic, "Lincoln, a Republican versus Steven Douglas, a Democrat." Evelyn said that her father practiced his rebuttals in their living room with the children listening in. Later in life, Axel also became a member of the Masons.

By 1925 with her children of school age, Jennie was helping at St. Luke's Hospital in Harvey on quite a regular basis. Because of the distance, she would stay in Harvey for several days in a row before going back to Manfred. She was also frequently called upon by people in the community to serve as a home nurse. She was very active with the Literary Society, Manfred Homemakers Club, and Vang Lutheran Church. In this organization, she was active with the Ladies Aid, and both Axel and she were active with Sunday School and Bible class with Axel having served as Superintendent. Axel and Jennie's home was a warm and hospitable destination for many local people, and for friends and family from afar. Axel died January 5, 1929 at the age of 57 following a short illness with influenza and complications.

Axel and Jennie had six children born at Manfred, and there they grew up and attended Manfred School.

1. Norman was born September 16, 1904. After moving to California, he met and married Theresa "Theo" (Rogers) Winter, a widow with two children. Two children were born to them. Norman and Theo lived in Lubbock, Texas and later in Hemet, California. Norman retired in 1971 following a career as an Air Force machinist. Theo died in 1976 and Norman died April 24, 1979.
2. Evelyn was born January 21, 1906. She taught school for a few years and then sewed on power machines in factories in Los Angeles and Hollywood. Evelyn married Art Carter on February 23, 1938 at El Cajon, later moving to San Diego. After Arthur died, Evelyn moved to Hemet, California. She enjoyed oil painting and traveling. Evelyn died sometime before 2006.
3. Herbert was born January 29, 1908. On March 10, 1935 he married Esther Janz in Fessenden, the daughter of Reinhold Janz. Herbert and Esther began their married life at Manfred and by 1942 they had moved to Richmond, California. They had one daughter and she had three sons. Herbert died October 15, 1952 in Richmond, California.
4. Helen was born June 18, 1910. She was a housekeeper for a time and also studied nursing at Minot. She married George A. Ruber, a house painter. They lived in Sacramento and Fresno before moving to Hemet, California in retirement. Helen died on Oct 3, 2003 at age 93 in San Bernardino, California.
5. Lyle was born February 8, 1916. He became a mechanical engineer and helped build the DEW line in Northern Canada during World War II, and later continued as a builder. He married Jewel De Lashe and they lived at Del Mar, California. In his retirement, Lyle became very interested in sculpting birds and animals. Lyle died September 20, 1995.
6. Genevieve "Jean" was born April 28, 1918. She married on September 16, 1941 in Havre, Montana to Edward Thomas. Ed was born August 19, 1919. They had one son and he had three children. After retirement, Jean and Ed spent their winters in Mesa, Arizona and summers in Kalispell, Montana. Jean died sometime after 1998.

After Axel died, Jennie continued to manage the farm with the help of her children and also continued very active with nursing care in the Manfred community and at St. Luke's Hospital in Harvey. In 1934, both she and her son Norman made the decision to sell their properties and move to California. Jennie remained in California for nearly two years, and then on May 20, 1938 she married Guy Fisher at Long Beach, California. When Jennie and Guy returned to Manfred, they were greeted with a community bridal shower and also a chivalry party. Guy had the job of manager at Farmers Elevator Company and Jennie resumed her various activities in the Manfred community. They were married 29 years before Guy died March 19, 1967. Jennie died March 21, 1971 in Orangevale, California.

2 ESTHER

Astrid “Esther” Hildegard Le Grand was born September 7, 1873 in Skåne, Gotland, Sweden. She immigrated with her parents and siblings to the USA in 1881. She met Gulbrand “Gilbert” Knudson Melby at Manfred and they were married there on December 11, 1895. They lived at Manfred until moving to Kenmare, North Dakota in 1904. After four years they moved to Coteau, North Dakota, then to Bowbells, North Dakota and lastly to a farm west of Bowbells. Esther was quiet, caring, and thoughtful to each family member and a fine Christian woman, well-respected in the community. Gilbert is remembered as having been very musical, as were his children. He was the band director of the Coteau Band. Later, he was director of the Bowbells Band. He also played the violin. He served one term as county auditor 1914-1920. See more about Gilbert and Esther at manfrednd.org: Newsletter, December 2004 issue, page 9. Esther died May 30, 1938 at Bowbells Hospital as the result of heart and kidney complications. Gilbert died October 9, 1963 at Kenmare Hospital of complications resulting from a stroke.”

Born to Esther and Gilbert were thirteen children: Georgiana in 1896, Carlton in 1897, Arthur in 1899, Marion in 1900, Ida in 1901, Elmer in 1902, Gordon in 1904, Morris in 1906, Evelyn in 1907, Raymond in 1909, Earl in 1911, Alice in 1913, and Irene in 1916.

3 INEZ

Inez Signild Le Grand was born December 4, 1875 in Sweden. She moved with her parents to the USA in 1881, living first at Northwood, North Dakota before coming to Manfred in 1894. There, she met Paul Christopher Rognlie who began a hardware, furniture, and harness business in Manfred with Ben Sorenson, known as Rognlie and Sorenson. The store later added farm machinery to its inventory. Paul wrote in his autobiographical piece - that after completing business school in Willmar, Minnesota, he at first was part of a traveling troupe of entertainers and later decided to return to Benson County. While proving up a homestead, he took employment as store manager for T. L. Quarve in his Viking Store at Viking. Paul then went into the hardware and furniture business at Manfred. In 1901, he built the first hardware and furniture store in Esmond, which he continued for a period of 27 years.

Paul and Inez Rognlie

On June 1, 1902, Inez married Paul, the son of Syvert Bertinus Zachariasen Rognlie and Mary B. Solum. He was born June 25, 1871 in Spring Grove, Minnesota. Paul and Inez made their home in Esmond, but made frequent trips back to Manfred. Their first three children were baptized at Vang Lutheran Church. In 1908, Paul sold his interest in the Rognlie and Sorenson business to Jacob Klev. To Inez and Paul were born six children: Donaven in 1904, Forrest in 1906, Verdi in 1908, Alden in 1910, Rhema in 1911, and Harry in 1913. Sadly, Inez died suddenly on August 19, 1914 in Esmond, North Dakota leaving behind her husband and six young children. She is buried at Esmond.

Paul married again to Juliana K. Jenson. Paul and Juliana had three children: Myrtle, Phillip, and Jarl. Paul also had a nursery and fruit groves all through his years living at Esmond. When he sold his hardware business, he continued full-time with his nursery and fruit business. The autobiographical piece written by Paul can be viewed at Manfrednd.org, Biographies under Rognlie. Paul died March 27, 1952 in Fargo North Dakota.

4 SARAH

Sigrid Elisabeth “Sarah” Le Grand (also known as “Thea”) was born January 9, 1879 in Sweden. As a young child, she came with her parents to the USA in 1881. They settled first at Northwood, North Dakota and in 1894 arrived at Manfred. In 1898, she married Olaf Emil Tansem in Manfred. Olaf was born 1872 in Minnesota. He was a blacksmith in Manfred and farmed south of there. Sarah and Olaf welcomed their first child Hjalmer in 1900, Eva Ruth in 1901 who died of diphtheria in 1903, Clifford in 1904, Daphne in 1906, and Edina born in 1907 who died of diphtheria in April of 1910.

While Olaf was keeping busy with his blacksmith business, Sarah would go with their children to their homestead claim in the Balfour area. While she was gone, her sister Gertie helped with housekeeping at Sarah and Olaf’s house. In 1905, Olaf rented his blacksmith shop to his employee Jacob Klev and joined Sarah on their claim north of Balfour. In 1906, Olaf sold his farm south of Manfred to Carl Hirschhorn. In 1907, Olaf and Sarah proved up their land near Balfour where Olaf continued with his blacksmith work. His blacksmith shop building in Manfred was sold to Ole Onstad and moved to the Onstad farm. Sarah was known as an accomplished dressmaker and tailor. By 1909, Sarah became stricken with pulmonary tuberculosis and died December 30, 1910 leaving behind her husband Olaf and three children. She was buried at Vang Cemetery next to her two children that had gone before her.

After Sarah’s passing, Olaf went to Montana and located in the Dooley-Stady, Montana area where some of his brothers are thought to have been living. His children Daphne, Clifford, and Hjalmer stayed with their grandmother Anna Le Grand in Manfred. All three children are listed as attending Manfred School during the 1913-1914 school year, and Daphne also attended school there for the 1914-1915 school year. In 1914, Olaf married Mrs. Sadie Moore who had a ranch at Comertown, Montana.

In 1917, Olaf’s brother Peter moved to Peace River, Alberta, Canada, and then in 1918, Olaf and his family also moved to the Peace River area. Olaf was an expert horseman, veterinarian, and farmer. Olaf and Sadie’s home was known as a gathering place for neighbors to congregate. Sadie died in 1930 and Olaf died in 1943.

5 DAVID

David Samuel Le Grand was born May 1, 1880 in Sweden. In 1881, he immigrated to the USA with his parents and siblings, learning to walk during the ocean crossing. The family settling first at Northwood, North Dakota and then in 1894 moved to Manfred. He grew up at Manfred and attended school there. He became a carpenter. Sometime around 1907, David went to Canada to help build the stations along the railway. He also had dreams of going to the gold fields in the Yukon.

Here are excerpts from his letter to Hulda written February 26, 1908 at Edmonton: “...I was with the railroad the biggest part of the winter, started in early last fall. The working staff was reduced considerably for awhile a few days ago, so I will be off duty for a time. I put in pretty good time since I began last September, did not lose an hour. We built a few stations, freight sheds, repaired bridges, etc., between here and Winnipeg. The last place we were at was North Battleford, Sask., where we repaired a big station that was pretty near burned down.... This has been a remarkable fine winter. It can hardly be called a winter, just a continuation of the fall. The last three weeks there has hardly been any frost at all. The most of the snow has gone which we can thank the Chinook winds for.... I heard you were going to get married pretty soon, is that right? I will come down to the wedding. Well, I guess I will put the brakes on for this time. With regards to the folks. Your brother David, Edmonton, Alta., Canada.” In 1910, another family member heard from him, but after that the family received no further word from him.

6 HULDA

Hulda Elvira Le Grand was born April 13, 1883 in Northwood, North Dakota where her parents had settled in 1881 after emigrating from Sweden. In 1894, the family moved to the new community of Manfred where they settled on their homestead land. Hulda had a couple years of schooling before needing to stay at home to help her mother. As a young woman, Hulda was employed as a cook with her sister Clara, working for their brother-in-law Olaf Tansem with his threshing rig operation in the Anamoose area. She also found employment helping local people like Mrs. Willborg who was a local merchant's wife.

On July 1, 1908 at Manfred, Hulda married Emil Torkelson who was born February 11, 1876 in Grottnumsbraaten, Vestre Aker, Norway. Her wedding dress was of fine white cotton with twenty-four yards of lace trim, made by a friend at Manfred. Her sister, Gertrude, served as her bridesmaid. Hulda and Emil began their married life on a farm near Anamoose where their first two children were born: Elvin in 1909, and Lillian in 1910. In 1910, they answered the call to homestead in Canada by filing on land one mile east of Beaubier, Saskatchewan, Canada. In February of 1911, horses, cattle, and machinery were shipped by rail to Ambrose, North Dakota and then brought by wagon and on foot to the new homestead in Canada two days later. In April, Hulda and the two children went by train to Ambrose, North Dakota where Emil met them with horse and buggy and brought them to Saskatchewan. They arrived in Canada on Hulda's birthday, April 13, 1911. For the first months, they lived with Emil's family during the building of their house which was completed by fall. The first religious services were held in their home on December 30, 1911. Their daughter Hilda "Eleanora" was born there in 1914. Emil Torkelson died December 20, 1919 after a brief illness.

On December 8, 1921 at Estevan, Saskatchewan, Canada, Hulda married Eddy Jacobson who was born September 22, 1880 in Hendrum, Minnesota. Hulda and Eddy had three children: their daughter Clarice born in 1922, and two sons who died in infancy. In 1924, Hulda and Eddy moved to Radville, Saskatchewan where Eddy worked as a mechanic. In 1929, they moved to Lake Alma where Eddy operated a garage. Hulda served as a midwife on several occasions and it was felt that she could have been a wonderful nurse. She cared for Eddy when he became confined to a wheel chair. After his passing, Hulda went to live with her daughter Lillian at Weyburn, Saskatchewan, Canada. She died there on August 14, 1977 at the age of 94.

7 GERTRUDE

Gertrude "Gertie" Josephine Le Grand was born March 18, 1885 in Northwood, North Dakota. She lived there until 1894 when she moved with her family to Manfred, North Dakota. Gertrude took some of her schooling in Manfred and later taught school in the Anamoose area. She also found employment keeping house for people in the Manfred area and filled in for her father as needed when he was Manfred's Postmaster from 1906 to 1911. She, herself, served as Manfred's Postmaster during 1912 and 1913.

In 1915, Gertrude briefly served as the "Hello Girl" in the Central Office prior to her marriage in June of 1915 to Ernest V. Bergstrom, born January 23, 1892 in Hoffman, Minnesota, son of Sven Ulrik Bergstrom and Anna Ersson. Gertrude and Ernest settled in Bismarck, North Dakota where Ernest was a salesman for Gamble-Robinson and Company. Born to them were two children: Bennett Bruce in 1916 and Frances Muriel in 1917. Only four years into their marriage, Gertrude died November 7, 1919 in Bismarck of peritonitis as a result of a ruptured appendix.

Ernest then married Hilda Emilia Johnson born March 3, 1894 at Harcourt, Iowa. Ernest adopted Hilda's son Fenton Dale Johnson Bergstrom born in 1913 at Washburn, North Dakota. Hilda died November 2, 1957 of heart disease at Lodi, California. Ernest died October 31, 1966 of cancer and pneumonia at Lodi, California.

8 HARRY

Harry Nathaniel Le Grand was born October 17, 1887 in Northwood, North Dakota and lived there with his parents and siblings until they moved to Manfred, North Dakota in 1894. Harry attended school in the Manfred area. He found work such as filling in at the local sandwich parlor and emporium. He attended business school at Fargo and in 1913 obtained his first position as a bookkeeper and stenographer at the electric company at Jamestown. In 1914, he took a position with a lumber office in Minot. When his brother Axel hurt his hand in an elevator accident, Harry stepped in as assistant grain buyer. In 1916, Harry assisted at the Manfred post office and in 1917 he obtained the position of mail carrier for Rural Route #1, purchasing the Ford runabout of Joe Biever to use for his work. He held this position until 1918 when he entered the military service May 18, 1918. After the cessation of hostilities of WWI, he was mustered out February 12, 1919. For many years he was self-employed in an auto repair business in Los Angeles, California. His last years were spent at Lynwood Villa in the suburb of Los Angeles. He died December 31, 1982 at age 95.

9 CLARA

Klara "Clara" Annette Le Grand was born July 22, 1889 at Northwood, North Dakota. In 1894, Clara moved with her family to Manfred, North Dakota. She attended school in the Manfred area and also at Esmond where she stayed with her sister Inez and husband Paul Rognlie. Clara taught school and also served as assistant postmaster to her father during 1907 and 1908. Telephone lines were first installed in the Manfred area during 1908 and 1909. Clara was one of the first "Hello Girls" for the new Central Office. With her experience, she was also called upon to help out at the switchboard in places like Fessenden.

While working as assistant cashier for the First State Bank of Manfred, she met Nels Anderson. She resigned from the bank on February 1, 1915 and her wedding to Nels was held February 17, 1915 at the home of her mother Anna Le Grand. Nels "Andy" Alfred Anderson was born October 4, 1884 in Horby, Maimohus, Sweden, the son of Andrew F. and Elna (Hilman) Anderson. In 1914, Nels had taken the position of manager at the lumberyard in Manfred, and at the time of their wedding had a similar position with the same firm at Ray, North Dakota where Clara and Nels began their married life. They eventually moved to Velva, North Dakota where most of their children were born. To Clara and Nels were born ten children: twins Roger and Roy in 1915, Jeannette in 1917, Richard "Dick" in 1918, Gertrude "Trudie" in 1920, Phyllis in 1922, in 1924 a male child who died in infancy, Betty in 1926, in 1928 a male child who died in infancy, and Robert "Bob" in 1931.

Clara and Andy owned and operated a coffee shop at Velva while raising their children. Later, they moved to Minot, North Dakota where Clara worked in Bader's Department Store and also did sewing alterations. In 1936, the family moved to Spokane, Washington. Nels died suddenly on September 25, 1940 in Pend Oreille, Washington. It was necessary for Clara to then go to work full-time to support her family. The grown children also contributed to the welfare of the family. Clara was a clerk at the Palace Department Store in Spokane for quite a few years and later owned and operated a children's store called "The Pixie Shop" until she retired. After retirement, she made her home with her two daughters in Hawaii and Washington. Clara died January 25, 1969 in Edmonds, Washington.
